COUNTY COURT, ROCK COUNTY, WIS.
On the matter of the estate of Frank C. Miller, deceased.

I, the undersigned, Clerk of said Court, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the record of the proceedings in said case.

Dated at Rock, Wis., this 1st day of August, 1890.

J. H. BROWN, Clerk.

On reading and filing the petition of Charles O. Miller, of the town of Beloit, in said county, representing that Frank A. Miller, late of the town of Beloit, in said county, died intestate on the 24th day of January, 1885, leaving property in said county, and praying that Charles O. Miller may be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased, it is ordered that said petition be heard before the court, at the office of the clerk of said court, in the city of Janesville, in said county, at a term thereof to be held on the 1st Tuesday of September next, at 10 o'clock, a. m. And it is further ordered, that notice of said petition and hearing be given by publication in each of the newspapers published in said county, once in each week, prior to said hearing, in the Janesville Daily Gazette, or your printer and published in the said city of Janesville.

Dated August 3, 1885.
By the Court, J. AMOS P. PRICHARD, County Judge.

—The German conversation class will begin at 7:30 this evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, that sometime may be given to blackboard reading.

—Mr. Eli Oall's lunch counter east of the Grand hotel, is one of the best places in town. Oakes, pies, sandwiches are all home made, and the coffee served is excellent.

—Messrs. Fitcher & Ziegler, the clothiers, hang out a daisy sign on the Main street front of their mammoth clothing house. It is the most attractive sign in the city and tells the truth, too.

—The rivalry between our photo-artists has brought out the finest display of pictures ever seen at a fair in this city, a picture of country. The pictures are evidence that our artists are up with the times in making good photos.

—Davies Bros. of this city, have fitted up a neat little booth in Domestic hall at the fair ground, where they are providing the thirsty with a free cup of Tyrolean tea. The young man in charge is not a regular Jap—only a Yankee imitation—put there not to deceive the public, but for the convenience of customers, and to introduce this popular brand of tea.

—A series of revival meetings will be commenced at the Baptist church on next Sabbath, to be conducted by Mr. Harold P. Sayles, an evangelist from Michigan. There will be Bible readings every afternoon, and preaching with other appropriate services every evening except Saturdays. A very cordial invitation is extended to all the people of Jacksonville and vicinity to all the meetings.

M. G. HODGE, Pastor.

—A young man in this city who recently answered the advertisement of a party offering to secure anyone a position in a bank, on receipt of one dollar, is now trying to keep the answer which he received away from his friends. He enclosed the dollar, and after a week of anxiety, received the following reply: "Take a two days' wait and wait until times are better; you will receive the position of cashier in the first bank which opens in Wisconsin."

—On Friday evening, Sept. 13th, the talented and very popular young comedienne, Mr. Roland Reed, will appear at Myers opera house, executing his very bright and laughable role of Dick Smyth, in "Cheek." Mr. Reed was never in better trim than during the present season. He has recently made the hit of the year as Ko-ko, in "The Mikado," in New York surpassing by general consent all his rivals in that role. It is pleasant to note that the star will introduce several selections from "The Mikado" into "Cheek," and many of our theater goers will hear for the first time next Friday, the funny "Titwillow," and "I've got them on the list," songs from Gilbert & Sullivan's latest work. Mr. Reed's engagement on hardly fail of being a prosperous one in Jacksonville.

Municipal Court.

This morning James Hagony, of the second ward, a man about 45 years of age, was up before the municipal court on charge of assault and battery. The complainant was a peaceable young man, who said that while the two were discussing the wages paid to carpenters, Hagony knocked him down. The striking was entirely unprovoked and Justice Patten imposed a fine of seven dollars and costs, amounting in all to $10.45. We understand that Hagony will also have a chance to pay personal damage as the young man's face was quite badly bruised by the blow.

In the afternoon Walter C. Price, assistant manager and vocal soloist of the cant establishment was before the court charged with assaulting Fred Oepelle, a boy about twelve years of age. While Price was rendering one of his most affecting songs last evening, a number of small boys persisted in joining in with the chorus "Rats." This provoked the cant man and he turned and struck young Oepelle with a stick. He will have time to repent of his action for being unable to pay the fine of $6.75 he was committed to jail.

A Correction.

To the Editor.

In your columns of last week paper you published a list of farmers in Rock county whose farms were valued at $10,000 and upwards. You stated that it was taken from the assessors list and was the value as given by the assessor. Now, as regards La Prairie, it certainly is a mistake. The values you gave were taken from the census enumerator's papers, which values are in some cases more than twice as much as the assessor's value.

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 46 degrees above zero. Clear with west wind.

At 1 o'clock p. m. the register was 73 degrees above zero. Clear with southeasterly wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 67 and 89 degrees above zero.

TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Adopted as the License Fee in Jacksonville.

By a Vote of 775 to 599—a Majority of 176.

Not One-half the Vote Followed.

Yesterday's special election was a very quiet affair, and outside a little demonstration on the part of the saloon men to put out their vote, very little interest was taken, the vote showing that not one-half the legal voters appeared at the polls.

The low license ticket, or the one fixing the license fee at two hundred dollars for the next three years, was successful by a majority of 170 in a total vote of only 1,375. Only 70 votes were cast for the $500 fee, and only one brave prohibitionist appeared at the fifth ward poll and cast his ballot for "no license." The vote in these several wards was thus tabulated:

First Ward. Total 175-75 for $200, 100 for $500.

Second Ward. Total 148-100 for $200, 48 for $500.

Third Ward. Total 108-100 for $200, 8 for $500.

Fourth Ward. Total 105-100 for $200, 5 for $500.

Fifth Ward. Total 40-40 for $200, 0 for $500.

Total. 775-599 for $200, 176 for $500.

To a casual observer the result of the high license election was due to the conscientious scruples of the prohibitionists and the supreme indifference of one thousand voters who failed to recognize any responsibility in the matter by their conspicuous absence at the polls.

The saloon men and friends of low license were somewhat elated last evening over the result, and between eight and nine o'clock the Catholic corner band was engaged and a small crowd paraded the public streets celebrating the victory.

Notwithstanding the event they celebrated, they were remarkably orderly and greatly enjoyed their little "merriment."

The question of license is now settled for a time at least, and we are glad that the liquor question will be out of local politics, and give place to important public improvements which will now come to the front for consideration.

The Milwaukee Exposition.

The great exhibition at Milwaukee has entered upon its third week, and public interest in the beautiful show is daily increasing. Liberal, the finest living concert player, and his successful engagement on Saturday evening, Sept. 13th. He is delighting thousands daily with his exquisite solos. Next Tuesday, the 22d, and through the week, the Berch-show of dogs will be the special attraction. The entries are very numerous, and some of the finest and most valuable dogs in the country will be on exhibition. The success of this novel feature of the exposition is already assured, and the management expects crowds during the show week that will test the capacity of the building. Exhibits of machinery from the state are being added to the already large display, the great building, crowded as it seems, having, like the conventional comb, "always room for one more." All the criticisms of the exhibition so far, and comparisons with others, have been favorable, and it is the verdict of all visitors that the Fifth annual exposition is the most interesting and attractive that the association has ever held.

ROBERTSON TOBACCO.

Notes from Our Regular Correspondent.

Edgerton, Wis., Sept. 15th, 1885.

The unusually warm weather Sunday caused the farmers some anxiety, and the sheds were thrown open to their fullest extent in order to avert the impending danger of shed-burns.

The present cool weather allows the farmer to rest easier, as the tobacco will take care of itself. Should very warm weather follow, the sheds should be thrown open and allow a free current of air to circulate through.

The sampling of the '84 crop is completed, and buyers are busily examining the results. No sales are being reported as the market seems to be over-stocked. A few buyers predict that the '84 crop will work off as slowly as to depreciate the value of the '85 crop.

It seems, however, that these mournful forecastings are simply efforts to lull down the market and cause the producer to sell cheap.

Unless the '85 crop turns out very poor, it will sell before the '85 crop of Pennsylvania or Connecticut.

Wisconsin tobacco has never, for the past four or five years, taken a second place as is evinced by the fact that while it is a common occurrence for the Pennsylvania and Connecticut tobacco to be stored in the packing houses over one season, such a thing has never occurred here.

Taken as a whole, no one can say that the outlook for the '85 crop is poor.

The Broker Inquire.

The taking of testimony concerning the death of Professor Broder was resumed before Justice A. D. Wickham this morning, with a number of new witnesses from Beloit. The testimony thus far tends to show that Broder was the victim of foul play at the hands of some one, but nothing definite enough to fasten suspicion on any person has yet been developed. This morning's investigation brought out the fact that Broder had had some trouble with the Catholic priest at Beloit, Father Sullivan, in regard to the burial of a niece of Broder's in the Catholic cemetery. Father Sullivan at first refused to permit the interment there on the ground that the niece was not a Catholic, but Broder laid the matter before the Bishop of the diocese, who ordered Father Sullivan to allow the body to be buried there. A brother of Father Sullivan, who made his home with the priest and who was afterward at the insane asylum, was greatly worked up over this matter, and it was shown that he afterwards attacked Broder after they had met and exchanged some violent language, but they were separated before the quarrel had proceeded far. This quarrel was a couple of months before Broder's death. An attempt was made to show that Sullivan, the priest's brother, had made threats against Broder, but none of the witnesses remembered hearing anything of the kind. Father Sullivan is dead, and the brother is still in the insane asylum.

Such shadowy details as this is all that has been made to appear.

The testimony will not be finished to-day, and an adjournment will probably be taken this evening to some time next week.

"N. Y. at the Grand Opera House.

"New York; a Tale of a Great City," was presented last evening at the Grand opera house to a large audience. The scenery was very striking, especially in the second act, when the large clothing house of Max Strauss was exhibited with its long long counters of goods, and its second floor, where sat the women in their employ busy running sewing machines. The harbor police boat in the third act was likewise very realistic, with its resplendent flags and uniformed policemen on board. The entire piece is highly sensational. The chief feature of the plot is a faithless and thieving partner in a firm of jewelers who is poor, and who, in order to get his millions, stops at nothing. He has his partner murdered; then robs the firm's safe and is afterward ready to poison his confederate in crime, but is foiled, and in the end is marched off to prison. The hero of the play is Sal Placensky (Lester Franklin), who in his make-up resembles mind and manner of the late John Wilkes Booth, and received unqualified applause. The play is one of the best of its kind, full of character and striking incidents, and is bound to fill the Grand Opera house at every performance this week.—Brooklyn Eagle.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Fine Weather and Good Attendance of Visitors.

Fine Show of Stock in all the Departments.

The Exhibits in the Domestic, Fine Arts and Agriculture Departments.

The managers of the Rock County Fair association could not ask for more pleasant weather than that of to-day, and a visit to the fair grounds this forenoon found every eye busy receiving articles and placing the exhibits into proper place.

Stock for exhibition in the various departments was constantly arriving, many of the departments being fuller than in any former year. President Pember informs us that the show of stock is the finest ever exhibited at a county fair.

There is a fine display of fruit, etc., in agricultural hall, among which we noticed seventeen varieties of grapes, eight of apples, and two of cranberries, exhibited by J. S. McGowan. There are many other exhibits in this department.

Mr. S. Heimstreet has a fine display of house plants, and there are many beautiful floral designs, one among the number—an American flag—which attracts much attention.

Mr. Seth Fisher is showing a fine herd of Durham cattle, and A. Myers & Son, of Beloit, a fine herd of Holsteins.

Mr. D. T. Ross, of this city, exhibits a lot of Poland China pigs, one of which weighs 945 pounds.

W. L. Denning, of this city, has a fine show of Poland China pigs; Barker Bros., of Walworth county, show some fine Chester Whites. Other exhibitors were coming in, and we were unable to complete the list.

A force of workmen were engaged all the morning in domestic and fine art halls, arranging the displays which will be the finest exhibit in many years.

This being children's day, there is a large crowd of people on the grounds—young and old—and all the vast crowd appear to be enjoying the programme of amusements.

This morning the exhibition of the ponies and the chariot racing was greatly enjoyed by the young people, the exhibition was very fine.

This afternoon the races—the 3 minute, the 2:30 and the farmer's race are on the programme, and are all filled and balloted to take place at 2:30, 3:00 and 3:30 p. m.

Secretary Vankirk informed us at noon that the entries in nearly all departments were larger than ever before, and the fair, should the weather continue favorable, will be a grand success in every detail.

The Catholic corner band has been on the grounds nearly all day furnishing music for the immense throng of people. The programme for to-morrow will be:

THURSDAY, SEPT. 17.

9:30 a. m.—Books will be given to judges.

10:30 a. m.—Let it drift down, Clydeville, will go to the ring.

10:30 a. m.—Let Norman stationery will go to the ring.
